This article was originally published on our site, and was written by our guest writer, Jessica Norah.NEW YORK — The New York Yankees are already the hottest ticket in town, whether it's for a home game or, arguably, for an entire day. "This is a special time," the Yankees' captain and Hall of Famer Derek Jeter said Thursday before he was inducted into the team's Hall of Fame. "We have this opportunity to do things that most people don't get to do. That's not one of the reasons why I got into this game, but it's nice and there's a little bit of excitement in everything." Jeter, who was hospitalized Sunday because of chest pain, said he was glad to take advantage of the opportunity to be inducted in his hometown. "To be here in a place where there's so much history, I'm very proud to be
